Chamfered

You can start personalising your home improvements right from the start by selecting the frame style. Both options offer superior thermal efficiency and feature high security hardware – it's just a matter of personal preference.

Chamfered design

Sculptured

The clean lines of our chamfered system make it ideal for any property. The square edges give a defined finish that will blend with old or new. Team it up with a grey or black foil finish and you can create a really contemporary feel for your windows and doors. If no nonsense practical style is for you, this system will be ideal.

Sculptured design

We think our 70mm sculptured system is the closest PVC-U has come to looking like authentic timber. The curved edges offer refined style and when combined with a woodgrain effect foil you will struggle to tell the difference. If you want authentic elegance, without any of the maintenance associated with timber this is the perfect system for you.
